Name: Dust-Partner-Support

Description: This bot helps Clay support teams answer questions about the Solutions Partner Program

What's the data?

- All of Notion
- All of Clay.com/faw
- Uploaded PDFs: The data is a collection of SOPs documenting the Clay Solutions Partner Program. It includes detailed processes for partner applications, affiliate operations, and overall program guidelines. Use this information whenever tasks involve understanding, referencing, or generating content related to partner workflows, affiliate management, or program structure

Instructions:

Your goal is to assist Clay support teams in quickly understanding any aspect of the Clay Solutions Partner Program, Clay Creator Program, or Clay Club Program, and to provide accurate, helpful, and concise answers to customers.

To do so, you are expected to provide:

- A concise explanation of the relevant part of the Solutions Partner Program (≤50 words)
- Operational guidance grounded directly in the SOPs
- Suggested response to the user problem. End the response with this exact phrase "Let me know if you have further questions or need additional help!"
- References to the specific SOP sections that support your answer

If you encounter conflicting or ambiguous information, here is how to approach your answer

- Disregard any documents that begin with [deprecated]
- If there is a timestamp or date mentioned of when the information was relevant, then the more recently relevant documents should override older documents or documents where no date is mentioned.
- If one document provides more specific logic, examples, or other details than another more generic mention, the more specific document should override the generic document.
- Always explicitly state sources that conflict.
- If the query does not specify which part of the program it refers to, ask for clarification.

Critical: If you do not know the answer, do not guess or fabricate information. Instead, respond with this exactly and nothing else: “I’m not sure, <@U074W2C0WNL> to check."

Questions

I've got a user here who's affiliate program application hasn't been accepted for about 3 weeks and I was wondering if I could get some info on what to tell them?Email: yevhen@coinsellor.com Workspace email: gukalo2001@gmail.com

Output:

Based on the SOPs, here's what to tell the user: [1,2]

Application Timeline: Solutions Partner applications are reviewed at the end of each month, with decisions announced in the first week of the following month. If it's been 3 weeks since application, this falls within the normal review cycle. [1]

What might be happening: The application could be waitlisted if client testimonials haven't been submitted yet. Waitlisted applicants are automatically re-evaluated in the next review cycle (approximately 2 weeks after being waitlisted). [2]

What to tell them:

- Applications are reviewed monthly - if they applied mid-month, the review happens at month-end with decisions in the first week of the following month
- If client testimonials weren't submitted in time, the application is automatically waitlisted and reconsidered in the next cycle
- For specific status updates on their application, direct them to @Lele Xu [1]

To check internally: You can look up their application status in the Experts Application table in Clay (workspace 4515) to see if they're pending review, waitlisted, or if there's an issue with missing testimonials. [2]

References:

[2] "1.pdf" (1 chunks)

Issues:

- For specific status updates on their application, direct them to @Lele Xu
- To check internally: You can look up their application status in the Experts Application table in Clay (workspace 4515) to see if they're pending review, waitlisted, or if there's an issue with missing testimonials.

Fix:

Editing “2.pdf” to add: If client testimonials aren’t submitted in time for the monthly review, the application will be waitlisted and automatically considered in the next cycle. Applicants can get an email notifying them of the waitlist.

Support does not need to check internal systems for specific status updates - we only communicate which cycle an application falls into. Support can simply confirm whether the applicant is within the current review cycle or past it.

If the review cycle has already passed and the applicant still hasn't heard back, direct them to @Lele Xu.

For all other application-related questions, direct the applicant to @Lele Xu.

New output:

Application Timeline & What to Tell the User

Applications are reviewed at the end of each month, with decisions announced during the first week of the following month. [1]

Since it's been 3 weeks without hearing back (and the November review cycle has now passed), you should direct them to tag @Lele Xu in Slack or reach out to Lele directly. [1]

Key Context:

- Applications may be waitlisted if client testimonials (minimum 2 with CSAT scores of 5) haven't been submitted in time for the review cycle [2]
- If waitlisted, applicants are notified and automatically reconsidered in the next cycle (typically within 2 weeks) [2]
- However, per the SOP: "Support does not need to check internal systems for specific status updates - we only communicate which cycle an application falls into" [1]

What to say: "Applications are reviewed monthly, with decisions sent in the first week of each month. Since your review cycle has passed and you haven't heard back, please reach out to @Lele Xu for a status update on your application."

Issues:

- We don’t ask the client to reach out to Lele, support escalates to Lele

Fix: Edited 2.pdf

New output:

Based on the Solutions Partner Program SOPs, here's what you should tell this user:

Application Review Timeline:
Applications are reviewed on a monthly basis, with decisions announced in the first week of each month. Since their application was submitted approximately 3 weeks ago (late October/early November), they should have received a decision email in early November.

Since they haven't heard back and the review cycle has passed:
According to the support guidelines, you should direct them to Lele Xu (@lele or lele@clay.com) for application-related questions when the expected review cycle has already passed.

Important Notes:

- If their client testimonials weren't submitted in time for the monthly review, they may have received a waitlist email and their application would be automatically considered in the next review cycle
- Support doesn't need to check internal systems for specific status updates - we only communicate which review cycle an application falls into

What to tell the user:
"Your application should have been reviewed in early November. Since you haven't received a decision yet, please reach out directly to Lele Xu for a status update on your application."

Issues:

- still incorrect rip

New output:

Application Review Timeline:

Issues:

dust doesn’t learn 😭

New prompt: “Are u sure”

Output: correct this time

Newest output:

Application Review Timeline:

Applications to the Solutions Partner Program are accepted on a rolling basis, with decisions announced in the first week of each month. [1]

Since this user's application has been pending for about 3 weeks, they're likely within the current monthly review cycle and should expect a decision in the first week of the upcoming month.

What to tell them:

1. If the review cycle hasn't passed yet: Let them know their application will be reviewed in the first week of the next month based on when they submitted.
2. If the review cycle has already passed and they still haven't heard back: You should escalate internally by tagging @Lele Xu in this thread. Do not ask the applicant to contact Lele directly. [1]

Common reasons for delays:

- If client testimonials weren't submitted in time for the monthly review, the application gets waitlisted and automatically considered in the next cycle. Applicants should receive an email notification if they've been waitlisted. [1]

Note: Support doesn't need to check internal systems for detailed status updates—you should only communicate which review cycle their application falls into based on submission timing and the monthly review schedule. For all other application-related questions, direct the applicant to Lele Xu. [1]

Given the 3-week timeline you mentioned, I'd recommend checking if the most recent "first week of the month" review has passed. If so, escalate to @Lele.

WORKS!!

Hi @lele @Anjali! I've got a user who has not received their paid commissions and it's been 3 months. Any ideas here / an update I can give them? Ticket
Email: bruce@convertinbox.com

Normal Commission Timeline:

According to the SOP, here's the standard payment flow:

1. 30-day hold after a referral converts to protect against refunds/cancellations [1]

2. Commissions move from "Pending" to "Due" automatically after 30 days [1]
3. Nancy processes payouts manually on the first Monday after commissions become "Due" [1]
4. After processing through Stripe, funds typically arrive in PayPal within 7-10 days [1]

3 Months is WAY Too Long:

This significantly exceeds the expected timeline. Based on the escalation chart, Nancy is the designated contact for commission-related issues like:

- "When will I be paid?"
- "Why does my commission not show up on Rewardful?" [2]

The SOP also mentions edge cases including failed payouts. [2]

What to do:

Since this is clearly outside the normal flow, you should:

1. Ask the user to check their Rewardful dashboard to see what status their commissions show (Due, Pending, or Paid) [3]
2. Confirm their PayPal account is properly linked in Rewardful [1]
3. Escalate to Nancy (already tagged in your message) for investigation since this appears to be a failed payout or processing issue

Nancy will need to check Rewardful and Stripe to see where the breakdown occurred.

Commission Payment Timeline & Issue

Based on the SOPs, the normal commission payment timeline is: [1]

1. 30-day hold after conversion (to account for refunds/cancellations)
2. Commission moves from "Pending" to "Due"
3. Lele processes payouts manually on the first Monday after the hold ends
4. Status updates to "Paid" after Stripe processing
5. 7-10 days for funds to arrive in PayPal

Total expected time: ~6-7 weeks maximum

A 3-month delay is NOT normal

Since it's been 3 months without payment, this falls outside the standard process. The SOPs list several edge cases for payment delays: [2]

- Failed payouts
- Not paid through PayPal
- Not paid through Stripe
- VAT/invoices required
- Issues with Rewardful attribution

Next Steps for Support

Per the SOP, you should escalate this directly to @lele as the designated contact for commission payment issues. :cite[ekx,[2]

What to provide when escalating:

- Partner's Rewardful dashboard status (is commission showing as "Paid" but funds not received?)

- Their PayPal account information on file
- Date of original conversion
- Any error messages or status indicators from Rewardful

The partner should be able to track their commission status in their Rewardful dashboard, which might help diagnose where the holdup is occurring.

Hi @Anjali, this user keeps bumping us and I wanted to run by you. They're asking for credit payments on past referrals where he didn't use referral link OR to renew a year early to get a 20% creator discount on their account. Are these discounts you're tracking? Any best steps in your opinion on this? I want to give user a resolution or a firm no to get him out of system. Ticket link for tracking.

Summary

Based on the SOPs, I can address one of these requests, but the other falls outside documented policy:

✅ Request 1: Credit for Past Referrals Without Link

YES - This is possible via Manual Attribution [1]

Partners can get retroactive credit for referrals made before they received their affiliate link. Here's the process:

Manual Attribution Form:

- Partners must submit a Manual Attribution Typeform [2]
- Required information: partner email, customer email, workspace ID, referral URL, and a screenshot [2]

- Link: https://clayhq.typeform.com/to/pV2u1kxs [1]

When to use it: "If a client bought a Clay subscription thanks to you but you don't see their info under your Rewardful dashboard, please submit all information for us to attribute them to you manually." [1]

SOP Note: The common question tracked is: "I referred someone before I got my link — how can they be added to Rewardful?" → Escalate to Lele [3]

❌ Request 2: 20% "Creator Discount" or Early Renewal

I'm not sure - please tag @lele.

The SOPs document a 20% revenue share (commission partners earn from referrals), NOT a 20% discount on the partner's own Clay account. :cite[a41,[4]

There is no mention in the SOPs of:

- Partners receiving discounts on their own accounts
- "Creator discounts"
- Early renewal options to lock in discounts

This appears to be a non-standard request that requires Lele's input on whether such arrangements exist or can be made.

Recommendation

For the ticket resolution:

- ✅ Approve the manual attribution request → Direct them to the Typeform
- ❓ Escalate the discount/renewal question to @lele for a policy decision

Aniruddh Gupta has a pretty unique case regarding his affiliate payment

999aniruddhgupta@gmail.com

He wants us to

1) Raise dispute with Paypal team to get a refund of $279.20 USD.

2) Process all of my referral amount to my following bank account:

Summary: PayPal Dispute & Alternative Payment Request

This is a unique edge case requiring immediate escalation to @lele. The SOPs acknowledge payment issues but don't provide a resolution process for this scenario.
